- African Mango (Irvingia gabonensis) is an extract derived from the seed and has been shown to support weight management through appetite suppression and increased metabolic rate.* It slows body fat production by supporting favorable changes in Glycerol-3 Phosphate, Leptin and Adiponectin which supports reduction of the conversion of complex carbs into sugars, fat burning and hunger management.*
- L-Ornithine is a unique nonprotein amino acid the body makes naturally, and it's vital for removing toxins from the liver as part of the urea cycle. Taking ornithine helps your body feel less tired and can give your muscles a boost of energy.*
- L-Carnitine is an amino acid that works by transporting fatty acids to the mitochondria where they can be broken down into fuel. When paired with a healthy lifestyle and nutritious diet, taking carnitine offers a variety of health benefits including endurance, enhances weight loss, prevents muscle damage, amps up fat-burning, boosts brain function and regulates blood sugar.
- L-Arginine helps increase blood flow and nitric oxide levels. When combined with L-ornithine, it helps provide a mild detoxification effect for the body (predominantly liver). It plays a role in increased hormone production, which leads to increased anabolic effects on the body.*
- L-glutamine is a mainstay in many workout products, specifically because of the role this amino acid plays in muscle recovery. The most notable mechanism is the impact it has on nitrogen balance, which is vital to building muscle mass and perhaps more importantly, muscle repair.*

- Niacin is a B vitamin that's made and used by your body to turn food into energy. It helps keep your nervous system, digestive system and skin healthy. It also helps to regulate cholesterol.*
- Maca (Lepidium) is related to radishes and turnips. Medicinally, maca is thought to enhance endurance, libido, fertility, and strength.*
- Pygeum africanum comes from an evergreen tree and helps balance the ratio of testosterone & estrogen in the body.*
- Beta-alanine is a precursor to carnosine, increases muscle pH buffering carnosine levels — a key muscle fatigue controlling factor.
- Rhodiola rosea root is an adrenal adaptogen with helps endurance, cognitive function, immune function, weight loss, athletic performance, and energy levels.
- Astragalus is considered a Traditional Chinese Medicine and Ayurvedic medicine. Astragalus is a true adaptogen, neither too stimulating nor too relaxing, but rather helping the body to find its optimal balance. Astragalus seems to be effective for many body systems including the immune system, adrenal glands, the liver, and the cardiovascular system. It increases mitochondrial function and enhances tolerance to stress.
